

Cowlitz Indian Tribe

Child Care and Development Program

Welcome to the Cowlitz Indian Tribe Child Care and Development Program (CCDP). Our program assists eligible families with their child care expenses.

The purpose of CCDP is to increase the availability, affordability, and quality of child care in Lewis, Cowlitz, Clark, and Skamania counties. We serve enrolled federally recognized Native American and Alaska Native families and their descendants. To qualify, children must be 4 weeks old up to their 13th birthday.

CCDP Service Area

Every three years the Cowlitz Indian Tribe applies for Federal funding in order to:

1. Provide families with the financial resources to find and afford quality child care for their children while working, attending a training or educational program, receive or need to receive protective services or are engaged in a job searching activity.
2. Enhance the quality of child care for families.
3. Provide parents with a broad range of child care options.
4. Strengthen the role of the family.
5. Improve the quality, availability, and coordination among all child care programs.

CCDP is funded by a federal grant through the Department of Health & Human Services and the Administration for Children & Families. Program requirements of the CCDP are tied to the federal regulations of this funding source. CCDP does not receive any funding from the Cowlitz Tribe.

Our program permits parents to choose from a broad range of licensed child care providers and Relative/Non-Relative providers. These providers are monitored by DCYF licensors and/or CCDP to ensure standards for health, safety, and quality are maintained.

Per grant requirements, CCDP has developed health and safety standards for parents who have chosen Relative/Non-Relative providers over the age of 18. Although parents have the primary responsibility for monitoring their child's care, CCDP provides an additional level of protection through on-site inspections, technical assistance, and consultation with those who provide child care.

Thank you,
CCDP Staff
